CURRICULUM VITAE

ANNAMARIA BERTI

BRIEF PROFILE. Anna Berti graduated in Medicine (110/110 cum laude, University of Milan, 1983), specialised in Neurology (University of Milan, 1987, with a thesis on epilepsy, conducted in the Dept. of Neurology, Radcliffe Infirmary, Oxford, UK) and obtained a PhD in Neuroscience (University of Parma, 1993). She is now full professor at the Dept. of Psychology of the University of Turin. She has been working for almost two decades on the issue of the neurocognitive mechanisms underpinning the subjective experience of being aware with a particular focus on space and body awareness. She has always worked in the domain of Cognitive Neuropsychology, in relation to neuropsychological deficits and their neurophysiological and structural counterpart. Her list of publications on the topic of neurocognitive impairment includes papers published in top international neuroscientific journals (amongst others, Science, Brain, Neuroimage, Neurology, Journal of Cognitive Neuroscience, Cortex, Current Biology, Nature Communication) and the results of her research have been object of international media attention (see the interview on the New York Times on 2nd of August 2005) and of top scientific journals (see the Lancet Neurology article, dedicated to her research, on the Volume 4 issue 9).

DATE AND PLACE OF BIRTH

27th June, 1957, Milan, Italy, married, one child

EDUCATION

- 1976 High school degree from Classical Liceum G. Carducci (Milan)
- 1983 Degree in Medicine and Surgery (110/110 cum laude). University of Milan
- 1987 Degree in Neurology, University of Milan.
- 1993 Ph.D. in Neuroscience, University of Parma
- January-July 1987, dr. Berti worked as Senior House Officer in the Department of Neurology, The Radcliffe Infirmary, Oxford, U.K, as part of her training in Neurology.

ACADEMIC POSITIONS

- 1995-1998 Researcher. Department of General Psychology, University of Padua
- 1998-2001 Associate professor of “Neuropsychology” and “Anatomical and Physiological basis of psychical activity”. Faculty of Psychology, Department of Psychology, University of Turin
- From 2001. Full professor of Psychobiology and Physiological Psychology, Faculty of Psychology, Department of Psychology, University of Turin.
- 2015-2020. Head of the Master Degree: Body and Mind Science, Department of Psychology, University of Turin.

INTERNATIONAL AND NATIONAL COLLABORATION

Dr. Berti worked in Oxford at different moments between 1987-1990 and 1996-98, acting both as a neurologist (The Radcliffe Infirmary) and as a researcher (Dept. of Experimental Psychology). When in Oxford she collaborated with dr. John and Susan Oxbury, prof. Alan Allport, prof. John Marshall, conducting research on neglect, extinction, anosognosia and Wada procedure. More recently she collaborated with Prof. Jon Driver, ICN, UCL on a project on anosognosia for hemiplegia. Other national collaboration are with prof. Gino Pizzamiglio, Dept. of Psychology (Sapienza University) and Clinica S. Lucia, Roma; prof. Maurizio Ferrarin and prof. Marco Rabuffetti, Dept. of Biomedical Technology, Don Carlo Gnocchi IRCCS, Milano; Prof. Bottini (Dept. of Psychology, University of Pavia); Prof. E. Paulesu, Dept. of Psychology, (University Milano Bicocca); Prof. Francesca Frassinetti, Dept. of Psychology, (University of Bologna). Before COVID pandemic, a collaboration was started with prof. Edward de Haan (University of Amsterdam), on split-brain patients.

AB has been also invited to give lectures and talks in many international symposia. She also acted as referee for several national and international grants, scholarship and foundations (for instance: French ANR, National Grant Switzerland, King's College London, ERC).

RESEARCH GRANT AND SCHOLARSHIP

- 1985 European Science Foundation ETP travel Grant. Winter School on "Higher Mental Functions", Zuoz, Switzerland; 4-11 January 1986.
- 1988 European Science Foundation short-term fellowship. MRC Neuropsychology Unit, Oxford (prof. J Marshall; April-June)
- 1988 European Science Foundation ETP travel Grant. EBBS Meeting, Zurigo
- 1989 McDonnel-Pew Foundation Grant. Summer School in Cognitive Neuroscience, Dartmouth College and Medical School of Dartmouth (USA)
- 1989 European Science Foundation ETP travel Grant. Meeting on "Cortical Control of Sensory Motor Integration, Lyon, France; 12-14 April)
- 1990 CNR Scholarship. Department of Experimental Psychology, Oxford University (dr. Allport; January-August)
- 1990-91 Santa Lucia Hospital research grant, Rome.
- 1996-1998 European Science Foundation Travel Grant. Oxford University (dr. J Oxbury and dr. S. Oxbury)
- 2001 Cofin MURST grant for the research "Factors involved in conscious representation of egocentric space
- 2003 Cofin MIUR grant 2003 for the research "Ocular movement and prism adaptation in neglect patients: effect of far and near space representational deficit"
- 2005-2007 PRIN MIUR for the research "Modulation of far and near space representation in walking: effect of prismatic adaptation in neglect patients."
- Grant CIPE regione Piemonte (€ 60.000) for a research project on far and near space representation in collaboration with prof. Jon Driver, ICN, UCL, London.
- Prin 2008-2010. Grant for the research 'From brain damaged patients to a model for intentionality and motor control: evidence from anosognosia for hemiplegia (€ 23000).
- 2008. Grant from Compagnia di S. Paolo (40.000 €) for the project 'Awareness of near and far space: studies with electrophysiological techniques'.
- 2008. Grant from Compagnia di San Paolo (45000 €) and from CRT Foundation (20.000) for the multimedial exhibition. Secrets of the brain, frontiers of the mind' presented at ESOF 2008 Barcellona, July; La ville Europeenne de Science, Grand Palais, Paris, November, 2008; Brain week, Politecnico Torino, March 2009.

- PRIN 2010-11. Neural bases of body awareness: evidence in normal subject and brain damaged patients. (€ 109.448).
- 2012. Grant from Compagnia di San Paolo, 92910 for the call ‘Finanziamento di progetti d’ateneo 2012’, project: ‘The conscious brain’.
